

PRESS RELEASE

Schwarzenburg, 12th June 2012

Gold medal for Luca Zoss! Together with his team mates, the automation engineer apprentice of Gilgen Door Systems AG wins the Swiss trainee championship in Bellinzona.

During the Swiss trainee championship in Bellinzona, the various teams of participants were faced with the challenge to configure, program and take into operation automation systems answering industrial standard requirements, within the shortest possible delay. However, professional skills alone were not sufficient for mastering this task; the personality of the competitors was also of utmost importance in order to guarantee the best possible composition of the teams.

The medal winners had been intensively prepared by the Professional Training Center Interlaken (BZI) and the vocational training school Langenthal (BFSL) in view of the pre-selections and the three-day Swiss championship. But finally it was Luca Zoss (Gilgen Door Systems AG) and his team mate Marco Hofer of Fritz Studer AG who won the gold medal. Sincerest congratulations!

But these two young men are not going to twiddle their thumbs now. Their next objective consists in participating in next year's vocational championships to be held in Leipzig (Germany) and to reach out for gold there, too! In the meantime, the two will again match their skills against the runner-ups during the Bernese Vocational training and recruiting trade fair (BAM) on August 24th, 2012. For this occasion, too, Gilgen Door Systems wishes them a lot of success!
